

Dynamic formulations of Optimal transportation and related numerical methods applied to variational mean field games

Jean-David Benamou

INRIA

I will review several relaxations of the classical Monge Optimal Transport problem using a dynamic “time” extension and discuss the corresponding available numerical methods. They also apply to some instances of variational mean field games.